a) What kind of trip did Mike and Judy take?

Sally: Look at these pictures of our walking trip to Yorkshire, aren't they cool? Paul:
Yes, there are some really good ones. Why didn't Mike and Judy join us? Sally:
Mike and Judy preferred to go to Brighton, remember?

Paul: Didn't they go to London?

Sally: No, I think they wanted to spend a few days at the seaside.

Paul: I see. Are they coming next time when we go to the Lake District in July?

Sally: I'm not so sure. They don't enjoy hiking that much...

b) When will school start tomorrow?

Jonny: When does school start tomorrow?

Amber: Stupid question, Jonny, it starts as usual. Eight o'clock.

Jonny: But Ms Cunningham mentioned this special project in the morning and told us to be there at 7.20, didn't she?

Amber: But that was before we talked about our really long day tomorrow, cos we're planning to go to the museum with our history club in the afternoon.

Jonny: As far as I know, Ms Cunningham wasn't very much impressed by your programme for tomorrow.
I remember she suggested 7.30 as a compromise.

Amber: Anyway, in the end she agreed that we meet at eight - just as usual. Everybody begged for a later start as it is going to be a long, long day.

Jonny: Thanks, Amber, now I know when to come to school.

c) In which sport did they not win any gold medals?

Cheryl: Hey Nick, I've never actually been to Australia. Can you tell me about any famous people that live there?

Nick: Well, one famous person is Ian Thorpe. He's a very famous swimmer. He has won so many gold medals.

Cheryl: Oh, really?

Nick: maybe four Olympics. I think he won about fourteen to twenty gold medals.

Cheryl: In swimming? I thought you guys are really famous for athletics.

Nick: Yes, we are. There's another famous person by the name of Cathy Freeman. She's the first Aboriginal Australian to win an Olympic gold medal.

Cheryl: What did she win the gold medal in?

Nick: In the 400 meters sprint, she's a runner.

Cheryl: Wow, I didn't know that.

d) What kind of accommodation is Mrs Schofield going to book?

Receptionist: Good afternoon, River Crossing Lodge. May I help you?

Mrs Schofield: Yes. I'd like to book a room, please.

Receptionist: What kind of room would you like, madam?

Mrs Schofield: Er... double with bath. Could you give me a room with a view of the lake Receptionist: Certainly, madam. I'll just check what we have available... I'm afraid, no lake views anymore for the doubles. I could offer you a tent next to the lake.

Mrs Schofield: Gosh, a tent, my husband and I are in our seventies. We'll skip the lake view then Receptionist: Wait, the computer is showing a lake view, but only single rooms.

Mrs Schofield: No, thanks. Any doubles with mountain view?

Receptionist: Oh yes, we have a double room on the second floor with a really splendid view of the mountains

Mrs Schofield: Fine. We'll go for that one.

e) How many free seats are there next to the elderly lady in the end?

Young lady: Excuse me, are these two seats vacant? I'm looking for a seat for my daughter and me.
 Elderly lady: Oh, I'm afraid there is only one as this friendly young man is sitting here next to me.
 Young lady: Of course, I see. Well, let's have a look. I'm pretty sure there are more empty seats further on.
 Have a nice day then.
 Elderly lady: But wait... sorry, I see, the young man has chosen another seat over there. Seems as if the seat next to that good-looking lady is more interesting than this one here.
 Young lady: Great, so you don't mind if we sit down?

Part 3

Kartini: Hi, my name is Kartini Mustafa. I grew up in Malaysia where the average temperature ranges between 21 and 32 degrees. So, the winter here is a nightmare, to be honest. Half the time, I'm in a jacket, shivering, whereas in Malaysia, I was always warm.
 Anna: Hello, my name is Anna. Although the US and Australia have a lot in common, I do notice some differences. One of my first days here in Australia, I remember, I got up at 5 or 6am, and I just decided to walk out and go and get some food. But nothing was open. No one was out. It blew my mind.
 Uyen: Hi, my name is Uyen and I am originally from Vietnam. In the village back home, I was used to walking across and talking to neighbours. But here, the doors are always closed and the gates into the gardens are locked. You almost have to make an appointment to see people.
 Mante: Hello, my name is Mante and I am from Ghana. One of the big things I had to get used to after moving to Australia was how punctual people are. If they say, „2pm“, you should be there at 2pm.
 Ronald: Hi, my name is Ronald Lee and I am originally from Hong Kong. Once during math class, my son pointed out that the teacher made a mistake in one step. You can't do that in Hong Kong. Here in Australia, they encourage students to be brave and speak up in front of other people. That really is a positive thing.

Part 4

- Marc: Samantha, we're talking about gifts and presents. What are the best and worst presents you have ever got?
- Samantha: Hi Mark! Well, my mum made a pair of socks. They had little flowers on each side. I just loved them and wore them every day when I was a kid. I thought that was so special. I still have them in my little box of treasures.
- Marc: The best present I was ever given was a football goal. My dad made it himself. I got it for my birthday and all my friends played football together, that was great.
- Samantha: Yeah, that sounds nice. And how about a gift you didn't like?
- Marc: I don't know if it is okay to say that I had a bad gift or something. But yes, once I did get a very big unicorn made of plastic from a friend who loved things like that. She gave me this massive toy and I didn't know what to do with it.
- Samantha: How awkward! So...?
- Marc: Well, I was so embarrassed that I hid it in my wardrobe so nobody would see it. But every time she came to our house, I took it out and put it next to my desk. But I hated it.
- Samantha: Sounds horrible... For me, a very close friend once bought me a top in brown, it was so ugly. The texture was rough, and it just didn't look nice at all. When I saw it first I knew I would never wear it. But I felt bad about it.
- Marc: So what did you do with it?
- Samantha: Actually, I wore it once, when my friend came round. Later I used it to mop up some coffee and then I just threw it out.
