Subject: Lost Powerbank at your hostel

Dear Sir or Madam,

My name is Peter Neumann. I am a student at Hegel-Realschule in Mannheim, Germany. During our last class trip from October 15th until yesterday we stayed at your youth hostel. Unfortunately, I lost the power bank for my smartphone at the hostel, most likely in the games room. It is grey and has a sticker of my school on it. If you find the power bank, would you kindly send it to my home address (Gartenweg 13; 68219 Mannheim)? Please let me know how high the shipping costs will be and provide me with your bank details. My parents are going to pay the shipping costs upfront.

Thank you in advance for your help.

Yours sincerely,
Peter

Part 2: A bad day

Yesterday was a really bad day for me. First, I was late for school because my bike had a puncture and I had to walk all the way. Second, my Maths teacher asked me to solve a number of problems at the board but I could not answer any of them. That was very embarrassing. Third, in the school canteen I tripped over something and dropped my whole lunch on the floor. Everyone was laughing at me, including Mary, a third-year student I am deeply in love with. That really broke my heart. Last but not least, in the evening I broke a window of our house while playing football with a couple of friends in our back yard. My parents were very angry with me. What a terrible day!
